As an IT student, I possess a solid foundation in frontend web development and data structures and algorithms (DSA). My proficiency in frontend technologies, including HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, allows me to create visually appealing and user-friendly websites. I have hands-on experience with popular frontend frameworks such as React, enabling me to build dynamic and responsive user interfaces. Additionally, my strong grasp of data structures and algorithms equips me with problem-solving skills, enhancing my ability to develop efficient and scalable software solutions. I am committed to continuous learning and staying abreast of emerging technologies to contribute effectively to innovative projects in the dynamic field of IT.
